

Every summer more small boats go out than the summer before

Every small boat that moved in Danish waters, day by day, smoothed over a week.
One line per year. The sea is empty from November until the end of March.

Winter is shaded. A line stops where the archive was never pulled down: 2015 to 2026 is six loaded years, not twelve.